Company Description
We’re consultants for 10 publishers around the world, helping them find and buy American books to translate and publish in their markets. We talk to agents, editors, and publishers and try to spot next year’s hit books. We’re small—just three of us—and young, and Brooklyn-based. It’s a fast-paced job with a lot of reading in an international context.

WEBSITE URL
www.lizgately.com

Internship Description
We’re looking for a sharp reader (English or Modern Languages majors preferred) to do a mix of reading and evaluating manuscripts, and data entry. You should be able to read a novel well and quickly summarize what sort of book it is and who the potential audience might be, both in the US and around the world. And of course, pay attention to detail in the data entry portion of the job.

Hours and Pay
This position is part time, and some of it can be done remotely. Compensation is $10/hour. 10-15 hours per week for 12 weeks (or more).

Qualifications
Fondness for novels, background in literature, foreign languages a plus.

Location
Downtown Brooklyn

Application Instructions
Please send a resume and cover letter to liz@lizgately.com